

20191210 Jewish from Both Mama and Papa
Viktoro Medrano

There were likely Jews from both my mother's and father's sides. In my mother's side, my ancestors from Greece were not just Greeks, but there were also Jews. In my father's side, my Portuguese ancestors might not have been just Portuguese, but there were likely also Jews, as even amongst my Spanish ancestors from both sides of my family. The Portuguese and Jews amongst them might have been transient from Macau, a Portuguese colony in China. The Philippines became a meeting point. In assessing ancestry, sometimes one must use probabilities.